Carnival

The 29th annual Kinsmen Winter Carnival is set to go this weekend. For details on the many activities, see the supplement in this newspaper.

Trio dead following accident

Three people are dead following a snowmobile accident Saturday night.

The three were passengers on a single machine crossing Halls Lake just before 8 p.m. The snowmobile struck open water at the north end where the Kennisis River flows into the lake.

Dead are 26 year old Kenneth Chicoine the owner of the snowmobile and the last person seen driving it, 27 year old Betty-Anne Devough, and 26 year old Gary Hotton. All are from Scarborough.

Police divers recovered the bodies at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Constable Brian Dunham is the investigating officer.

With her yellow raincoat and cap, white beard and pipe, Janine Garbutt looked something like Captain Highliner when she skated out onto the ice for the first Eastern Ontario Sectional Interpretive figure skating competition in Uxbridge. Janine put in an excellent performance, taking third place.

Councillors address official plan

The process of establishing a county-wide official plan for Haliburton began last week with a series of meetings between county councillors, municipal councillors and representatives from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs.

The three meetings — one in Stanhope, one in Gooderham and one in Minden — provided municipal staff and councillors with the opportunity to have questions answered and express concerns. It was the first of several public meetings designed to encourage input from local councils, staff and residents.

The idea of establishing an official plan to cover all of Haliburton County originated from strong recommendations from the Economic Development Strategy completed for the county. Only three of the county's 10 municipalities have official plans. They are Minden, Dysart and Cardiff.

The first public meeting was held at the Stanhope Firefighters' Hall last Tuesday. About 20 people attended to hear the presentations from Committee Chairman Maurice Bradley and ministry staff Ruth Maladey and Terry Turner.

"Having spent a great deal of time, effort and money on the county Economic Development Strategy, it would seem rather foolhardy to me if we did not put into practice what we have learned, and anticipate what should happen within our county in the coming years," Bradley said in his opening remarks. "An official plan would set out the ways and means of setting and maintaining goals and objectives of economic development in the county."

Maladey describe an official plan as a "framework for development to meet demands of today and the future."

An official plan is a sort of blueprint for development. It works in conjunction with zoning by-laws that spell out exactly what type of development is to be permitted on any lands.

All municipalities in Haliburton have zoning by-laws, but only three municipalities have official plans, which address both present and future growth patterns.

"The purpose of an official plan for the county is to provide a public policy statement, directing development in the County of Haliburton, while ensuring the continuity of a county established quality of life," said Bradley, who is also the Reeve of Cardiff Township.

"The official plan will act as a guide to both the private sector and public agencies as well as the municipalities in such sectors of the county as economic development, waste management, social services, health and children's aid," said

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Dysart Council shuffled its membership last week and although four of the seven council positions were affected by the shake-up, there will be only one new face at the council table.

Reeve Murray Fearrey and Councillor Glen Hodgson both tendered resignations last week, and at a special meeting last Monday night, council opted to fill the vacancies by appointment rather than election.

Deputy-Reeve Bill Davis was promoted to the position of reeve and Ward Three Councillor Lloyd Leadbeater was appointed to the position of deputy-reeve.

Dorothy Baker, who served on council in previous terms, was appointed to serve as the councillor for Ward Three which encompasses the Harcourt area.

The most surprising move saw Fearrey, whose retirement from municipal politics lasted only a few hours, was resurrected from private life to fill the Ward Five vacancy created by Hod-

Calling the police now made easier

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Promising improved public access and officer safety, the Ontario Provincial Police in District Eight unveiled their new communications system last Wednesday.

Ontario's Solicitor General, Steven Offer, was the guest speaker at the OPP's Media Day held at the Peterborough Holiday Inn.

Under the new system, all detachments in the district will be dispatched through a central communications centre in Peterborough. People needing police assistance will call 1-800-461-6488 no matter where in the district they are calling from.

The district covers the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Haliburton, Durham and Northumberland. Police cars in the district will be in contact with the central dispatch centre through the new microwave radio system.

Offer said the new system will expand the force's radio coverage, improve officer safety and public access to service, and enhance communication between the OPP and other police forces.

This district is the seventh of the province's 16 districts to implement the updated communication system. The remaining nine districts will all have the system in place by the spring of 1992, said Offer.

District Eight's Superintendent, Bruce Wheeler, said that "after 33 years of living with the old system it's exciting, if not scary, to sit in a patrol car and wonder how the radio works."

None of the district's 10 detachments will have radio dispatchers with the new system. All emergency calls are handled through the central dispatchers in Peterborough. However, each of the detachments will still keep their old phone numbers and people calling these numbers will be patched through to Peterborough.

The cost of implementing the service in the district was $4.1 million and the cost province-wide is $106 million.

The central office in Peterborough has five dispatchers, each with a computer terminal. The dispatchers receive calls from all over the district and then contact the officers who are closest to respond.

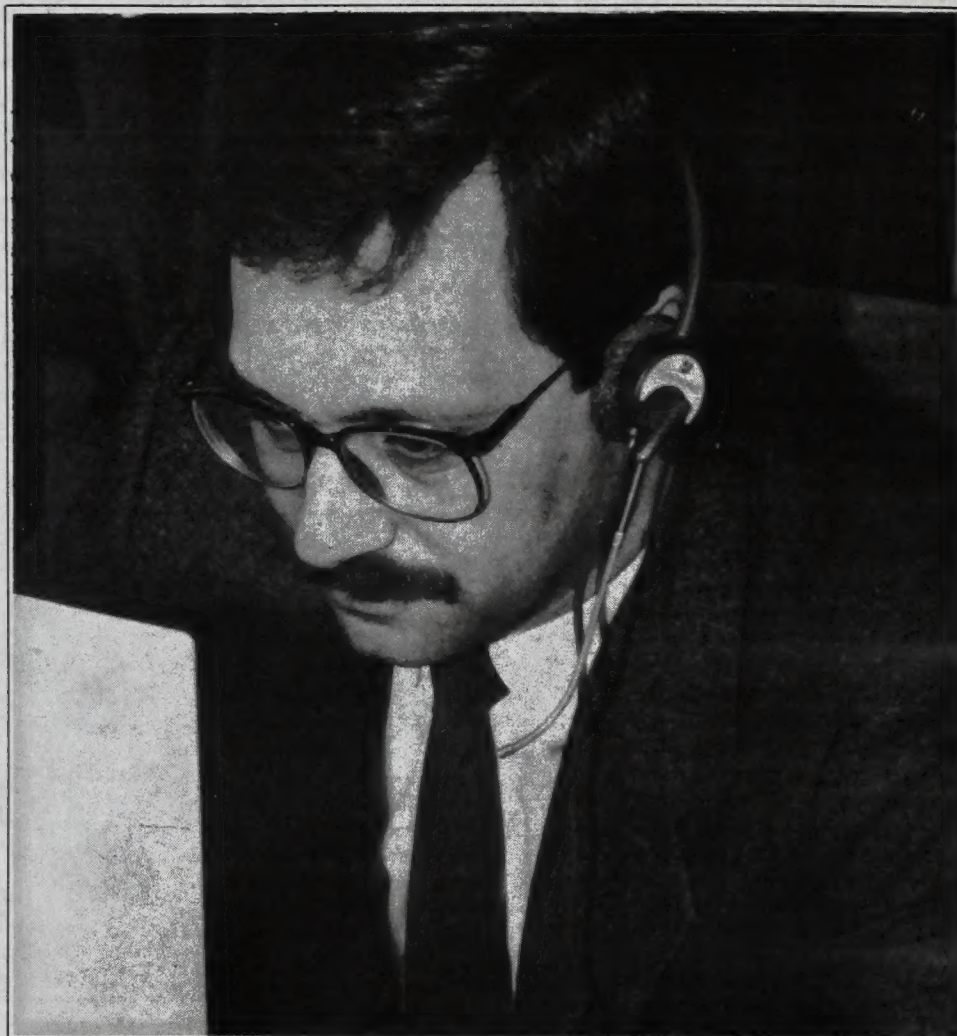

Each dispatcher has detailed road maps of the area in order to pinpoint where assistance is needed. As well, the new system allows a person to speak directly to an officer in his patrol car if further directions are needed.

In terms of communication, the new system effectively turns the whole district into one big detachment, said one communications officer. If needed, a dispatcher in Peterborough can call cars from across the five counties to a single incident anywhere in the district.

Because the local detachments will no longer have radio dispatchers, the offices will close from 5 p.m. to 9 a.m. However anyone calling these offices when they are closed will have their calls answered automatically in Peterborough.

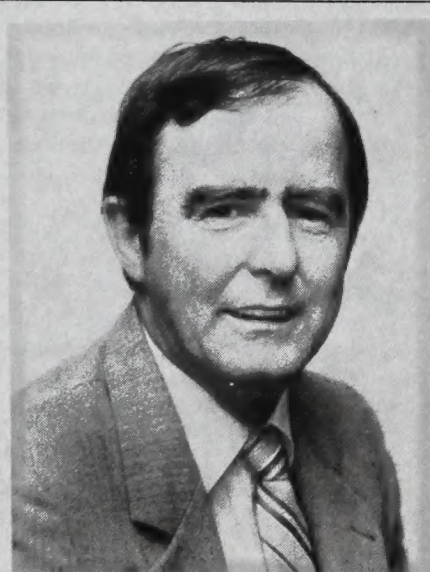

Each detachment also has a phone located outside the building which patches a caller directly to the Peterborough centre.

For the system to be really effective, Wheeler said it requires the general public's acceptance and willingness to dial 1-800-461-6488 to request police assistance.

Ontario Solicitor General Steven Offer got some hands on experience using the OPP's new communication system. Offer was in Peterborough last Wednesday to help District Eight unveil the improvements at a media day.

Fearrey says he won't play reeve

gson's resignation.

Both Baker and Fearrey have accepted the council appointments.

In an interview on Friday, Fearrey said he didn't know about Hodgson's decision to resign at the time he handed in his own resignation.

If council had opted for an election, Fearrey says he wouldn't have been involved. He accepted council's request to return in the interest of maintaining continuity and experience on council.

Fearrey and Hodgson were the two councillors who had served the longest and the resignation of the two most senior members would have represented a big loss in terms of experience, said Fearrey.

He admits he had doubts about serving as a councillor after 14 years as reeve, and says he discussed the move with Davis to make sure the new reeve would be comfortable with the situation. "I assured him I won't try and play reeve from the other end of the table," Fearrey said. "I'm going to do a councillor's job."

After learning of the appointment, Fearrey said he discussed the issue with his wife and decided to accept the job, "because I do still care."

Fearrey is aware that Dysart citizens may still look to him to play the role of leader in the community, but he says he will have to politely tell them who is now in charge.

His decision to resign as reeve was made based on a need to devote more time to his business and his personal life. Fearrey says, as councillor, he will have about 30 per cent of the work load he had as reeve and will still be able to "take a little breather."

Davis says he has always intended to run for reeve some day, but he's surprised the opportunity presented itself so soon.

The new reeve downplays the importance placed on the position. He says that around the council table the reeve is just one voice and one vote working with the other six members. "You can't put seven people around a table and not come up with a knowledgeable point of view," says Davis.

He says he will need more one-on-one meetings with representatives of other levels of government and, in that capacity, the reeve has to be "diplomatic."

As far as his duties on County Council are concerned, Davis says he always tried to be involved in discussions and voice his opinions when he was deputy-reeve and he will continue to approach issues with the same attitude.

He does expect to take more of a lead role on county committees and says he will "watch developments with a keener eye."

There is no problem with Fearrey serving as a councillor as far as he's concerned, says Davis. He says he was in on the decision to ask Fearrey to return and the appointment was made in the interest of continuity and stability.

By serving on council, Davis says Fearrey will provide valuable background information and will be an excellent resource when dealing with issues that are several years old.

Davis describes Fearrey's new role as being similar to the one played by Hodgson. He describes Hodgson as an "historian" when it comes to Haliburton County and calls his resignation a great loss to Dysart Council.

Hodgson says his resignation was prompted by health problems, particularly his blood pressure. He said the timing of his decision had nothing to do with Fearrey's resignation and he wasn't even aware of Fearrey's decision before he himself decided to resign. He had been considering the move for the last three or four months, he said.

"Sometimes you have to do these things," said Hodgson.

Programs a must in Dysart

There's so much shuffling going on, it looks as though we're going to need a program to follow the action at the Dysart political arena.

Reeve Murray Fearrey is no longer Reeve Murray Fearrey. Instead, he's Councillor Fearrey. Deputy Reeve Bill Davis is now Reeve Davis (not to be confused with Stanhope's Reeve Davis). Councillor Lloyd Leadbeater is now Deputy Reeve Leadbeater, and former Councillor Dorothy Baker is now just Councillor Baker.

Last week we watched as two senior members of this municipal council handed in their resignations. To fill the vacancies, council had the option of either holding an election or making a confusing string of appointments.

An election was the obvious solution.

Council chose to appoint.

Davis was appointed Reeve. Leadbeater was appointed Deputy Reeve. They called Fearrey back into play after his brief breather in private life. Both he and Baker were appointed as councillors. So now the score at the Dysart political arena is appointees 4, elected members 3.

They say the decision to appoint rather than elect was made to provide continuity and maintain a level of experience on council. They've succeeded at this. But in doing so, they've filled the majority of council seats with appointees, they've tested the elasticity of the Municipal Act and they've ignored the candidates who ran unsuccessfully in the last municipal election when making the appointments.

The ends don't justify the means.

"AND JUST WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN ALL WINTER?"

The '80s: Ten years of working up a sweat

I don't know how you plan to remember the 80's, but for me it will go down as the Decade of Exercise Excess.

The dubious pastime of whipping suet-y human carcasses into something approaching perfection gained cult status over the past ten years. Perhaps it was because so many Baby Boomers hit middle age all at once and discovered simultaneously that it had been a long time since they'd had visual, first-hand evidence of anything below their navels. Personally, I got tired of hearing my chins applaud every time I crossed a set of railroad tracks. Whatever the motivation, a lot of folks volunteered to work up a sweat, and the 80's was definitely the decade to do it in. The 80's gave us the Jane Fonda video, power walking, leg warmers, and a television phenomenon in which nubile bunnies hopped and puffed and rrrreached and strrrretched accompanied by fluffy instrumental music and wearing nothing but a swatch of spandex

Black 'n White

by Arthur Black

and a brainless smile.

The 80's taught us that someone running through the park in the pre-dawn gloom was not necessarily a peeping Tom in full flight; that a man jogging on the spot at a downtown intersection sweating profusely and wearing a black lycra body suit was not necessarily a purse snatcher or a cat burglar.

These people were not felons. They were Shining Exemplars. Heros to be admired and emulated. They were worshipping at the Temples of their Bodies. And considering what the Swaggarts and the Robertses and the Bakkers were doing under the altars of the regular churches, old Corpus United didn't seem like a bad place to bend your knee in the 80's.

Yes sir, the 80's was the decade in which a lot of Canadian couch potatoes decided they were tired of being unable to cut the mustard as well as a sixty-year-old Swede. So we dug out those high school runners from the back of the closet and resolved to Shape Up. But once we had those runners laced and we'd stuffed ourselves into a pair of track pants, we had a problem: where to go to —you know— get perfect? Nobody wanted to expose their physiological imperfections to the world by jiggling around the local high school running track or wheezing through a creaky set of pushups on the lawn.

Fear not. The 80's had the answer.

Oh, sure, fitness clubs have been around for

Close of the '80s sparks decade-ending dispute

Editor:

I notice in your issue of December 23 that Peter Stickland once again raises the vexing question of when does a new decade begin—a question that, 10 years down the road, will be even more hotly debated as we move into both a new century and a new millenium. (New, that is, according to the calendar used in the Western world; obviously the Jewish, Chinese, Muslim, Buddhist, and other calendars are approaching no such temporal watershed.)

Instinct suggests to me that Mr. Stickland is incorrect in his judgement that the beginning of the new decade is still a year away and that, in fact, you were correct in your original assertion that it indeed began on January 1, 1990.

However, I do not have the wit to figure this thing out definitively for myself and turn therefore to a letter written to the Globe and Mail some 16 months ago by one L. E. (Ted) Jones, professor emeritus and engineering curator at the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering at the University of Toronto, a man known and loved by many generations of undergraduates for his warmth, quirky wit, and all-encompassing curiosity.

Permit me to make the argument by quoting extensively from Prof. Jones' letter which was published on September 10, 1988:

"The perennial misunderstanding concerning century-start has surfaced again, the reason for such confusion being due, it would seem, to a widespread inability or unwillingness to cope with the concept of zero as applied to our calendar.

"When I first drew breath (in Montreal, at noon on Good Friday, March 25, 1910), my age, familiarly enough, was considered zero. On March 25, 1911, I 'turned 1' and became a '1-year-old', a designation I kept for the next 12 months. Consequently, during 1910-11, I was a 0-year-old—even though no one used, or thought of using, such a term because there was no need. Correspondingly, the designation for the first year of the Christian era would be 0 AD—unfamiliar perhaps (and dismissed out-of-hand by some, but without any visible attempt at valid explanation), but a concept which is in use nevertheless...

"A person's 'age number' (78 for me during my 79th year) and our familiar year-number 1988 during the current January to December range) represent the 'age as of last birthday.' The intervening passage of time can be shown as a fraction (at noon on Canada's last birthday, I was 78.268) or in everyday chronology, more usually by the month and day—and clock and time zone if needed.

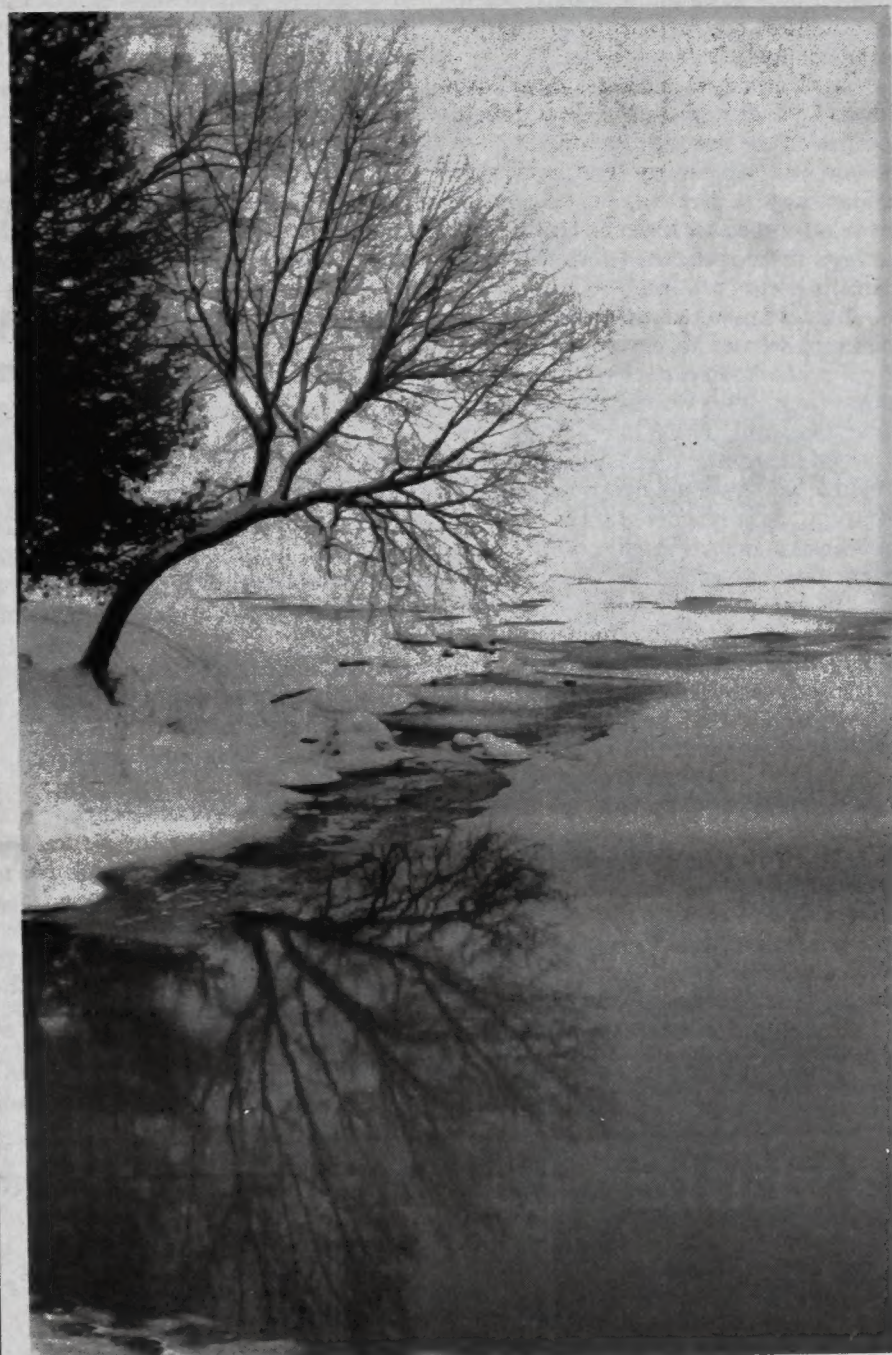

"Consider now an imaginary digital clock that indicates years rather than the usual hours, minutes and seconds. If such a clock, initially set to zero (as we do with a standard stopwatch before use), had been activated at my birth, it would have shown 0 during my first year of existence and on March 25, 1911, would have flicked to 1, dwelling thus during my second year and so, each indication being, of course, my applicable year number. In the corresponding concept for the Christian era, its calendar clock would flick to 2000 on the completion of the situation, the year 2000 (the first year of the third millenium) will be a leap year."

Thus argues Prof. Jones and I, for one, am convinced. In order for the next century (and millenium, and decade) to begin at the first moment of January 1, 2000, this decade must have begun right where you said it did—January 1, 1990.

Happy New Decade!

Study should be public

Editor:

This writer would like to express full and complete support for conducting a Health Study for the County of Haliburton. For too long, this area has been woefully lacking in Services, to which other centres have come to expect as a matter of course.

Consequently, I read with dismay the article regarding the above, printed in the January 15 edition of The Minden Times. The committee has apparently decided that no public participating will take place; that a release to the press following the meetings, will suffice. This more than ten years, but they really came into their own in the Eighties. The old clubs had been as a rule, slightly seedy, smelling of sweat and liniment, presided over by a bald guy who smoked cheap cigars, handed out towels and answered to Knobby.

In the 80's the Fitness Clubs went Yuppie. Gone were the clanky old barbells and punching bags hemorrhaging sawdust. In their place were very shiny, very expensive machines. Machines that were good for nothing but exercise.

Man used to tote that barge and lift that bale. In the 80's he worked out on a Nautilus. We used to take Sunday afternoon bike rides or row around the bay. Now we wait in line to work up a sweat on stationary bikes and rowing machines.

And then there's the Life Fitness Lifestep Model 300X. It's as shiny as a Nautilus, as sleek as a stationary bike and even trendier than those rowing machines they don't go anywhere. It features padded foot pedals, adjustable hand grips, variable drive and a computerized LED screen for continuous feedback on your progress.

Wanna know what you actually DO on the Lifestep model 300X? Well, you umm...climb steps.

That's it! You just climb a set of steps that keep rotating so that you can climb them some more. You can do the same thing every lunch hour climbing the stairs at work.

Well, why not? Simpler is usually better. Doctors now say the best overall exercise isn't sprinting or pumping iron or marathon swimming—it's walking. Fun too. No overpriced outfit to buy, no membership dues, no locker combination to remember. A brisk walk gives you fresh air, a change of scenery, a good cardiovascular workout, plus, if your route takes you past a Fitness Club with windows....

Your morning chuckle.

Official Plan: does the need justify cost ?

Councillors from all parts of the Highlands had an chance to learn about the process

Bradley. "It will provide direction for orderly and consistent development, which will not compromise the natural scenic beauty of the area, nor the recreational character of our county, including the retention of water quality and the aesthetics of the water and wooded landscapes which are of paramount importance to the maintenance of the local tourist-based economy."

At Tuesday's meeting, Stanhope Township's Administrator Gerald Bain questioned the need for an official plan. He said his township has seen an average residential growth rate of just 1.5 per cent per year for the past 15 years. He said this suggests there is no need for an official plan.

Bain also noted that the lakes in Stanhope are already developed to about 95 per cent of their capacity, which leaves room for only another five per cent growth in cottaging.

Unless something happens in the area that will have a great impact on the economy, Bain wondered if the need for an official plan justifies the cost of establishing one.

It was estimated it will cost between $100,000 and $150,000 to establish a county-wide official plan.

It is the attractive natural aspects of the Highlands that bring people here, Maladey responded. She said there is a limit to the number of homes and cottages that can be built on any lake before the water quality deteriorates too much. Lake capacity studies are one way of addressing this, but she said they are costly and time consuming. It is difficult for a small municipality to afford to study the capacities of all its lakes before development has gone too far.

Committee member Ray Moore also responded to Bain's comments. He said Muskoka used to have a steady growth rate of one to two per cent and many councillors there did not see a need for an official plan. However, now the growth in that area is "phenomenal," said Moore. "Let's get ready. It may never happen, but let's be ready in case it does."

Sherbourne Township Deputy Reeve Ed Vallance said growth tends to follow the establishment of an official plan. Minden and Haliburton were experiencing mild growth rates when they introduced their official plans, said Vallance. He said the same happened in Muskoka—they established an official plan and development followed.

Development is gradually making its way north, said the Sherbourne Deputy Reeve. Areas further north than Haliburton are already experiencing rapid growth.

'Let's be ready,' says Minden Reeve Ray Moore. Rapid growth might never develop in the Highland, but if it does, he wants to be prepared with a county-wide official plan.

He said people might look to Haliburton, see there is no official plan for most of the county and realize it could take two to three years to get any development off the ground.

Vallance said he supports the idea of an official plan as long as the local municipalities have control of the zoning by-laws. He said this is important because, in spite of their many similarities, the municipalities are also very different.

A minimum area for a rural lot in Sherbourne Township, for example, may not be appropriate for Stanhope, he said. With much of Sherbourne Township occupied by Crown land, smaller lot sizes would be more desirable than those required in a township with plenty of land.

Even with an official plan, individual municipalities still have their zoning by-laws, said Maladey. Therefore, minimum requirements for one township may not be the same in another.

Some of the concerns raised at the meeting Wednesday at the County Office in Minden included the gradual loss of municipal responsibilities and potential difficulties with official plan amendments.

Minden Clerk Mary Mysyk said she sees more and more municipal responsibilities being transferred over to the county. Eventually the county will be handling everything and there will be no local government, she suggested.

Terry Turner, representing the ministry, the transfer of some responsibilities was identified in the ministry's report on county government in Ontario. He said the report indicates county government should be taking more of a leading role. However, he said this does not mean all responsibilities will be transferred over.

There have been few changes to the structure of county government in 150 years, said Turner. The current review and recommendations for more powers is a "catch up," he said.

Bradley added that municipalities in the Highlands have been shoving off some responsibilities to the county in recent years. As a result, the county is finding itself in a position where it needs a policy for direction, he said. The county is not out to take things from municipalities, said Bradley.

The county is facing a heavy workload without the kind of tools it needs, said Bradley.

In addition to mapping out the direction for future development, a county-wide official plan would also make it feasible for the county to hire full-time planning staff. Instead of hiring outside planners for advice, municipalities would have easy access to the county planning staff.

A county-wide official plan could be developed as either a one- or two-tier plan.

A two-tier plan, similar to what is in place in Victoria County, could have detailed official plans for individual municipalities and a more general official plan encompassing the entire county. This would allow the existing official plans in Minden, Dysart and Cardiff to remain in place, with some changes. These official plans would have to conform with the upper-tier plan that encompasses the entire county.

A one-tier plan means there would be only one plan that takes in all of the county. In this case, the existing official plans would cease to be in effect.

One of the benefits of having an official plan is that it gives the county a higher profile in the eyes of the provincial government, Maladey said. It shows a county is able to handle its programs and provides a unified voice.

Although the province does not presently require municipalities to have official plans, Bradley said it is highly likely they will be demanded in a few years. He said it is recommended in the report on county government—a recommendation that was supported by the Association of Municipalities of Ontario.

One question raised at all three meetings is whether the county should postpone its work on an official plan until the province completes its review of county government. If some municipalities in the Highlands have to amalgamate, some felt this would have an impact on the official

Sewage solution sought

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Dysart Township now has until February 28 to try and address concerns about the proposed sewage plant expansion.

Although the Minister of the Environment hasn't yet given his decision on the request, ministry staff say they support the idea of giving Dysart another six weeks to iron out the remaining problems.

The township has applied to expand the existing sewage treatment plant in order to accommodate effluent from a proposed sewage line extension to resorts along the north shore of Lake Kashagawamog.

But property owners on the lake are concerned the expansion will cause further deterioration to the water quality of the lake chain, and have sent their objections to the Ministry of the Environment.

The objectors are requesting the project be "bumped-up" to a Individual Environmental Assessment, a detailed study of the expansion which could delay the project by as much as two years.

A decision on the bump-up was supposed to have been made by the first week in January, but the township requested an extension until last Friday (Jan. 19) so they could meet with the project consultants, the ministry and MPP John Eakins.

Bill Davis, who has since been appointed reeve of Dysart, attended the Jan. 9 meeting and reported on its outcome at last Monday's council meeting.

Davis says the ministry has seven points they are concerned about with regard to the plant expansion. The township's consultants on the project, Totten, Sims and Hubicki, feel they can address these seven areas and avoid the need for an individual assessment.

After the meeting, Davis said he felt "optimistic" about the future of the sewer project but he tempered his optimism by saying the consultants have been optimistic after every meeting with the ministry and

Maladey agreed it is logical that restructuring should come before the development of an official plan. At the same time, though, she said there is no reason that the artificial boundaries of municipalities would affect the designations of an official plan. She said official plans recognize geographic boundaries rather than municipal boundaries.

She also noted that Haliburton may have a long wait before it can be considered for restructuring. She said ministry staff are involved in three studies for this purpose already and there are another three counties on hold. Of the 26 counties in the province, 10 have requested studies. Therefore, it will be at least another two or three years before Haliburton can be ready for the move.

It has been said from the start that the key to the success or failure of this bid to establish an official plan for the county is the level of co-operation from municipal and county councillors. Bradley reiterated this belief at the outset of each of the three meetings.

"We must set aside our sacred cows and work together for the betterment of the county," said Bradley. "We can no longer content ourselves with phrases like 'It was good enough for my father, it is good enough for me' or 'We have never done it that way before.'"

"In order for an official plan county level to work, each township and their elected representatives must set aside personal preferences and look ahead with a commitment to co-operation for the betterment of all within the county."

Bradley said everyone will have to be willing to give and take. At times, he said, it may necessitate putting political careers on the line.

Press releases not enough

is not acceptable! I, for one, will not accept press releases as the official reporting, no matter how accurate or "in context" they may be. From the beginning, the public has been assured they would have a voice in this extremely important study. One could ask why and by whom such an arbitrary decision was made. One could also ask who is footing the bill for this study. The answer would obviously be each citizen, the taxpayer.

I would ask you to note at least one point as outlined in the Committee's own terms of reference: — "identifying the present and projected needs of the residents of the County, perceived by the residents, professionals, etc." In my opinion, this places the onus on the Committee to obtain the residents' ideas and suggestions.

Another equally important question is why this Committee has begun deliberations, and receiving input without the Minden Hospital representative being present. The presence of this member at all meetings is as vital as any other member on the committee. Until St. Joseph's Hospital can make this appointment, the meetings must be postponed. The Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home for Haliburton County, and our local hospital must play an important role in any study, not only at the present time, but particularly in the future.

Finally, when the committee has been completely appointed, public meetings must be held to allow residents of the county to present prepared, documented submissions.

A shameless dog killer

Editor:

I am writing this letter to the snowmobile enthusiast who has no shame. On Friday, January 12 between the hours of 7 and 8 p.m. close to the north end of Mountain Lake my best friend was hit and run over by a snow machine. Eventually he had to be put down because the wounds he suffered from the incident made survival on a daily basis impossible.

Now it was a known fact that Hank used to love to chase motorized vehicles: boats, cars, and in the winter time snow machines, but it was also a known fact that snowmobilers used to love to entice the dog into a chase. Often they would see how close they could come to him when meeting him on collision course, or slow the machine down only to pace the animal, letting him come within a few feet of the machine for a few yards only to then speed away.

Whether it was an accident, deliberate, the influence of alcohol, or an idiot who doesn't realize that a snow machine travelling at 70 m.p.h. (and that is the average top end of all sleds today) needs 150 feet to stop, yet the headlights can only make out clearly what is 100 feet ahead of the machine. Maybe it was a combination of the above four. I will never know.

What I do know is that a dog barks, this one especially, and always while in pursuit. You knew what you hit and you knew you ran over him, because a dog just doesn't receive a leg that was broken in several places, a shattered pelvis that was moved into an entirely different part of the body, and internal injuries beyond repair by being clipped. No, you hit and ran over a barking dog and you knew it. You let him crawl back to shore at least 70 yards where he was found whining, and he had to be crawling because he couldn't make it up the hill from the lake. You didn't even have the decency to stop, get off your sled and go to the nearest lit house and do something.

This I know for sure, and it's people like you who have no shame.

Not all snowmobilers are like you, nor people, but it's people like you who give the proper enthusiasts a bad name.

Yours in utter disgust.
Kevin Shapiera

Open letter to the 'Grinch'

Editor:

I am a newly retired teacher, and as my wife and I love the Haliburton Highland area, we decided to sell our home near Alliston and build a house on our recently purchased land in this area.

Everyone we have met up here has been very friendly and helpful. The people in the law office and the municipal office, the local trades people and the neighbours, all made us feel that we were welcome here, even though we won't be moving in until spring. Unfortunately, someone we didn't meet was a little too helpful.

On December 21 someone with a misguided idea of the Christmas spirit came into our new driveway and helped himself to about 40 sheets of plywood. Like everyone else at this time of year, we aren't exactly rolling in cash, so it really hurt. Thanks a lot!

One of the nice things we always liked about living in a rural area is that people trust each other and can be trusted, usually with little risk. At least that's the way it is around Alliston, maybe I was naive in thinking it was the same up here.

I don't suppose it will do any good, but if anyone happens to notice someone who suddenly seems to have a lot of 15/32 in. fir plywood sheathing on hand (it's quite pink compared to the spruce usually seen around here), please let me or the Minden office of the Provincial Police know about it. (Or, if you are reading this and have any conscience at all, drop by and give it back. We will chalk it up to a momentary lapse in your normally decent conduct).

We are still looking forward to moving up here but our faith in "human nature" is a bit shaken.

A new look for old tavern

The Dominion Hotel in downtown Minden has a brand new look inside thanks to the efforts of the establishment's two new owners.

Bryan Jackson and Peter Mathwick took over ownership of the landmark business on December 13 and opened for business on January 12. They spent the month in between doing "extensive renovations" to the inside of the tavern, according to Jackson.

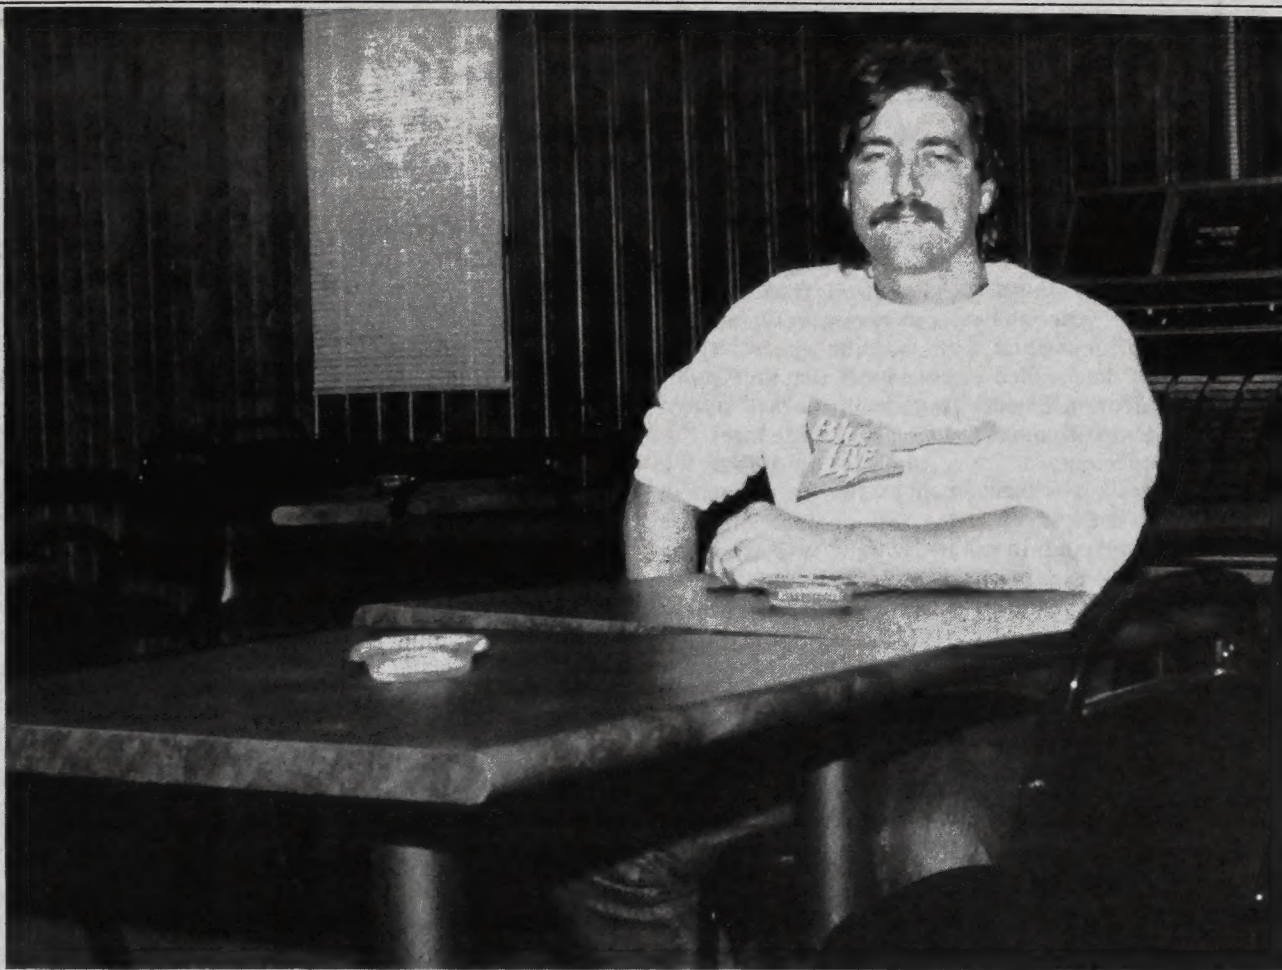

Jackson, formerly from Oshawa, will be managing the Dominion and says plans for the business include getting the kitchen going again and refinishing the outside of the building.

Outside work will include sandblasting and staining the wood and repairing the balcony, but Jackson says they want to preserve the building's old-fashioned look and the character of the business.

"We don't want to turn it into a disco," he says.

Not only will the Dominion have a new look, it will also have a new sound courtesy of the live bands that will be featured every week-end. Jackson says he will continue to bring bands into the bar as long as the support is there for the entertainment.

The live entertainment will represent a variety of musical styles from country to rock.

One of the Dominion Hotel's new owners Bryan Jackson relaxes in the tavern's renovated lounge.

Township gets lots of help to 'keep the roads open'

Editor:

I would like to acknowledge the co-operation and generosity of some of the people of our community in helping The Township.

The Municipality of Dysart employs six plow routes to cover all its roads for winter control. The second week in January one of our townships tandem plows broke down and is in for repairs at Winslow's Garage, Peterborough. This means extending routes for two other plows and allocating a grader to the Kennis plow route.

On January 10, the grader went out of control, due to ice conditions on North Kennis Road and slipped into a deep ditch. Repeated efforts to bring the grader out of the ditch were unsuccessful.

Mr. Percy Lynnburner, working in the area suggested using a log skidder that was due to be in the area the following morning. Mr. Pat Morrison of West Guilford was contacted that night and it was agreed he and his staff would help, also that same night, Mr. Percy Lynnburner called suggesting the building of a platform and using the grader in a horizontal position, making the exit out of the ditch easier.

On the morning of January 11, the Twp. Road Crew armed with numerous rail road ties, chainsaws and extra heavy duty chains met Mr. Percy Lynnburner at the site as he was digging out the snow around the grader in preparation to build a platform.

Mr. Pat Morrison arrived at 10:30 a.m. and all was ready for the lift out of the ditch.

Pat's large skidder walked up the side of the road bank and was anchored to the base of a large tree and cable from its winch was released and hooked onto the midpoint of the grader. It took less than half-an-hour to remove the grader from the ditch to the road with no damage to any equipment. When I approached Pat and Percy for payment of their services I received a handshake and coment, "Just keep the roads open," was all they wanted.

My appreciation and thanks to all involved in this incident, especially Percy, Pat and crew.

Road Superintendent,

Guild getting back into the black but asks for $20,000

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Despite a surplus budget for the current year, the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts has asked Dysart council for a $20,000 grant in order to finance capital improvements.

Guild President Pearl Foster and Past President Virginia Muenzel made the request at last Monday's council meeting.

Council was given financial statements for last year, this year and the next three years and Muenzel said, "if you study these statements carefully, you will quickly note that we are coming to you with an attitude somewhat different than that of the last few years."

"It is because of a supreme effort on the part of a majority of Guild members, an extra-ordinary increase in donations from the business community, and of course, the generosity of this council that the (Guild) finds itself, at last, out of deficit," said Muenzel.

Muenzel said that the Guild came to council in the fall of 1988 "in dire straits" and was not going to meet its budget for the fiscal year end of March 31, 1989. In response to the Guild's financial plight, council gave them an advance of $6,000 on the 1989-90 municipal grant.

"At that point, this Guild had to take stock of itself," said Muenzel. "We knew we could not become permanently dependent upon this council for bail-out funds."

The Board of Directors made a careful list of the Guild's objectives "in order to create a 'more viable organization,'" she said.

In order to improve the Guild's economic situation several initiatives were undertaken. These included asking the general membership for help, an effort to solicit corporate memberships, revamping the Summer Sale, and a new fundraiser called "Winning Wednesdays." Gallery shows were reorganized with greater emphasis on marketability and the full-time secretarial position was reduced to part-time.

The Guild also asked for an increase in financial grants and Dysart responded by giving another $12,000 in addition to the previous $6,000. The municipality also assumed the cost of upgrading the security system.

"Our strategy paid off," said Muenzel. She said, based on the latest forecast, this year will be the Guild's best since the opening of the Rails' End Gallery. The gross revenue is approximately 20 per cent over plan.

"In short, we have met a majority of our objectives to the extent that we actually have a surplus balance," said Muenzel.

"This being the case, council might wonder why we are once again here with our hands out requesting funds."

Muenzel said that the Severances approved in spite of conflicting advice

Lutterworth Township Council approved three land severances near the Ironmine landfill site Thursday after wrestling with contradictory information from the Ministry of Environment regarding the size of the buffer area.

David Shapiera was representing Otter Creek Construction in this severance application. He was told there is a mandatory buffer zone surrounding the landfill site where the municipality is not allowed to grant building permits. The size of the buffer zone is where the confusion lies.

Reeve Carol Puffer said council was initially advised by Brian Howden that the buffer area should extend for a quarter of a mile (1,320 feet) from the outer edge of the landfill area. Howden, the Senior Environmental Officer, at the ministry's office in Gravenhurst, provided council with this information at a meeting last year.

Council was later advised in writing by the ministry that the buffer area must be 1,500 feet.

The engineering report done for this landfill site also indicates a buffer zone of 1,320 feet is necessary.

Reeve Jim McMahon said Lutterworth isn't the first township to run up against conflicting advice from the ministry. He said he has heard of other municipalities in the county basing decisions on advice from Howden only to have the ministry reject the plans.

In addition to approving the severances, the township will be writing to the ministry explaining the circumstances. Clerk Jeunne Simpson was asked to provide the ministry with a copy of the minutes of the meeting that Howden attended. She will also provide a copy of a map on which Howden drew in the buffer zone.

Funds needed for capital costs

Guild wishes to pursue a list of needed capital improvements, something that is only possible with the financial support of the municipality.

The Guild hopes to spend $11,000 on capital expenditures before the end of the fiscal year, March 31, 1990, said Muenzel.

The improvements are part of a $15,500 capital improvement program the Guild has designed. The items on the list include general maintenance and repair, new furniture, modifications to the Gallery building's interior, an air conditioner and improved lighting.

"Neither the Guild of this community can afford to allow a viable tourist attraction and educational facility like the Rails' End Gallery Station to fall into a state of further disrepair. We must make these improvements now," Muenzel said.

"While it is true that the Guild has had a banner fiscal year, it is not likely, especially with a probable economic downturn, that we will have two in a row. Nor is it reasonable for us to depend upon our business community for large donations two years running," said Muenzel.

She said the Guild does not expect to have a surplus for capital expenditures at the end of fiscal 1990-91 and only expects to operate at a break even point for the next three years.

"It is our sincere hope that you will consider our contribution to this community when deciding upon our funding grant," said Muenzel.

Remarking on the Guild's improved financial situation, Reeve Bill Davis said "this year you've taken the bull by the horns and got a better picture."

Council has yet to decide whether or not to grant the Guild's funding request.

Hyland Crest administrator Rheta Jones, left, accepts a cheque in the amount of $556.04 from Muriel Harrington for the home's bus fund. Muriel is a member of the Hyland Crest Auxiliary, the group responsible for placing donation jars in businesses throughout the community. This latest contribution was gathered from these containers.

Dysart questions fire fees

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Dysart council will be asking the township of Monmouth to reconsider a $1,000 increase in the cost of fire protection.

Monmouth council has sent a letter to Dysart asking for a stand-by fee of $6,000 for 1990, up from $5,000 paid in 1989. The fee is for the Monmouth fire department to provide protection to Harcourt Township, part of the municipality of Dysart et al.

Councillor Glen Hodgson said that Monmouth council should be asked to reconsider the increase, especially since there was a $1,000 increase in 1989 as well.

While Dysart buys fire protection from Monmouth, it also sells the service to Snowdon and Glamorgan. Usually Dysart increases the stand-by fee it collects from these two townships by the same amount that Monmouth increases its fees.

This year however, Harcourt councillor Lloyd Leadbeater said Dysart should try and "keep a lid" on stand-by fee increases by not passing on the full increase being charged by Monmouth.

"We've always passed it on," said Hodgson. "Whether it's fair or not, I don't know."

Leadbeater said that while a small increase in the fees charged to Snowdon and Glamorgan might be in order, he would have difficulty with raising the fees by 20 per cent, even if Monmouth is.

Last year Dysart raised the stand-by fee charged to Snowdon by $1,000, equal to the increase it had to pay Monmouth. The fee charged to Glamorgan was not increased.

Councillor John Parrish justified some of the increase by saying that Dysart had to purchase new fire equipment and Snowdon doesn't have either a fire truck or a firehall. Glamorgan does have a fire department of its own.

But Leadbeater said that in light of last year's increase, Dysart shouldn't "hit Snowdon too hard" or they would be doing the same thing as Monmouth is doing to Dysart.

Hodgson said that it's possible Monmouth has a good reason for requesting a $1,000 increase. "It would be nice to know," said Hodgson. "It can get out of hand if you don't question it."

On Friday, Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman told The Times the increase is justified because the township is buying a new fire truck and has recently bought new costly radio equipment. Monmouth also increased the stand-by fee it charges to provide Cardiff township with fire protection, said Tallman.

Sherborne gets grant for building dept.

The Townships of Sherborne, et al have recieved a $2,932.50 Building Administration Fund grant, John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton, announced on behalf of Housing Minister John Sweeney.

The funds are to be used to increase the efficiency of municipal building administration and inspection procedures.

This grant will make it possible for the Townships to ensure the development of an efficient and responsive building administration and inspection system, Eakins said.

All Ontario municipalities are eligible to apply for grants under the Building Administration Fund. Innovative proposals to improve the processing of building permits, refine inspection procedures, upgrade building records maintenance or share services with neighbouring municipalities are examples of the types of projects that have received financial assistance.

Lutterworth building fees will rise, to be based on size of buildings

Building permit fees in Lutterworth Township will be increasing for most buildings under a new fee structure that is being considered.

In the past, Lutterworth has charged a flat rate of $50 for a building permit. Under the new structure, which was discussed at Thursday's council meeting, the fee would be based on the size of the building.

Ernie Roylance, Lutterworth's by-law officer, suggested a fee of 12 cents per square. He said he contacted other municipalities in the county for comparison and 12 cents per square foot is about the average.

Councillor Lisa Mercer

noted this would bring the fee for an average home—1,200 square feet—to $144. After some discussion, the consensus of council was that a fee of 10 cents per square foot would be more appropriate.

Roylance also suggested the township should require a deposit of $100 for all building permits. The deposit would be returned once a final inspection has been done by Roylance. He said this would make people more willing to co-operate in arranging a time for the final inspection.

Council decided more thought should be given to this recommendation

Legion trivia night a success

For Your Service

by Dave McAdam, Legion Branch 636

Branch 636 is now well into its New Year. Two recent events are deserving of comment at this time, especially as they were gatherings of good fun and fellowship for those members and our friends and guests who were there.

The first event was our Happy New Year's Dance at the Branch. Just over 50 persons attended, the lounge was appropriately decorated, and Lois Adamson and her helpers served excellent hors d'oeuvres through the evening. We all saw 1990 arrive with a bang.

The second event was The Trivia Fun Night last Wednesday. Cub Coneybeare assisted by Mary Coneybeare and Bill Dillon, did a superb job of creating a good time for all of us who were there. The competition was keen but the winners of the mind-stumping evening were Dwight Thomas and his team of brains, namely, Susan Beers, Russ Duhaime and Mary Ann Wilson. It looks like they have been doing their homework. The two runner-up teams on the score sheet were, second — Don Nye, Casey Wilson and Ken Wallace, and third — Frank Codlin, Eleanor Hall and Phil and Jane Graham. Yes — I better admit it here and now — my wife Ann and I along with Syd and Lois Adamson had the honour and distinction of taking the booby prize — a bottle of fumigated air off the shelves of the L.C.B.O. (Little Chubby Boys Organization).

For any of you members who have not wandered into the Eric Lewis Lounge recently, you might like to take a look at the new snooker table we have acquired. The table is not on a timer but rather operates on the honour system (no interruptions in the game with the light going off at awkward intervals). Gerald Cooper organized and has been running a snooker tournament each Tuesday evening.

I recently learned of a criticism of our Branch made by an outsider (non resident) concerning the fact that this Branch is run by volunteer members. It was compared to a branch that is more affluent and has been operating many more years than ours. I would like to comment that because of the involvement of the many volunteers, because of their many hours of devoted labour, time and talent, Minden and district has a branch of the Royal Canadian Legion of which it can be proud. Those volunteers, bar committee people, telephone callers, committee chairpersons, those who have worked in the kitchen, on construction projects and names too numerous to mention, take a bow. Because of you, this branch is here and you are deserving of accolades, not criticism.

It was nice to hear Frank Dunsford is home again from hospital. Take it easy Frank and we look forward to having you back among us when you are feeling better. As for you, Freddie Cox, we are giving you two minutes for elbowing. Sincerely though, we were sorry to hear of your accident. Hope you will soon be well and fit again.

It came as a shock to us to learn of the sudden passing of another of our Comrades, Clint Branning. We did enjoy his company and his expertise in matters of Legion for the all too brief interval that he was a member of our branch. We extend our sympathy of Mrs. Branning and wish her to know we share her loss and he will be remembered.

Our next General Meeting is February 7 when the draw for the snow blower will be made. Our President Sally and our Bar Committee Chairman Bill have run away together for a well deserved holiday. In Sally's absence it falls on yours truly as 1st Vice-President to chair this next meeting. Please bear with a beginner.

Take note of the following Legion coming events and participate in any you feel that you are able:

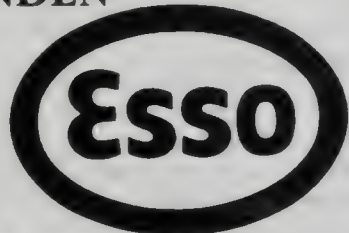

February 10, 8:00 p.m. at the branch — Valentines Dance.

February 14, 6:30 p.m. at the branch — Branch appreciation dinner for our Ladies Auxiliary.

February 15, Curling at Woodville — Team made up of Earl McDonald, Roy McDonald, Ken Walsh and Dave McAdam.

March 4 — Zone F4 Convention in Lindsay.

* PEOPLE POWER *

This has been a year of people coming together for common causes all over the world. We have watched with awe and wonder as people just like ourselves have made incredible and historic changes in their countries and in their way of life.

Last weekend's Sled Dog Derby was one small example of how the people in this community have the strength and enthusiasm to come together for a common cause. Volunteers from age 6 to 75 created a team of 100 strong to put on this event. Each individual took their 'job' and their responsibility seriously and bore up under long hours, cold weather and physical challenge without ever letting up. And even beyond this, all of these individuals worked together as a solid, seamless unit in the spirit of full co-operation. What's more, we had fun!

Local businesses, our township council, service groups, numerous associations and our corporate sponsor also banded together to create a solid and supportive foundation for all of us.

Our efforts here did not go unnoticed. Here are some of the comments I heard from mushers...

"We pride ourselves in Pennsylvania for putting on the very best races, but I have never seen a race as good as this one." Pennsylvania Musher.

"We have raced all over North America and I'd say that this race is better than the one in Fairbanks, and it equals the race in Anchorage, Alaska." Minnesota Musher.

"Every sled dog race should be run like this one." Ohio Musher.

"I have never seen a town come together like Minden for a Sled Dog Race ... it's great." New York Musher.

The media coverage attests to the notoriety of this event. The spectatorship clearly speaks to the popularity of this event. The increase in business dollars for many local businesses underlines the importance of this event.

In reflecting upon all of this, I can only say that I truly believe that Minden is one of those communities that can effectively work together for a common cause. We should all be aware of the strength we possess as a unified body. This strength can be used for anything we wish ... just think about the possibilities here.....

Thank you to each and every one of you for helping with this event. A special thank-you to the following groups for your efforts:

1. Masters of ceremonies Bill Payne and Lorry Perry.
2. The Lions Club for putting together the official race program.
3. Haliburton County Snowmobile Association for the use of their trails and groomers.
4. Minden amateur Radio Club.
5. Labatts - for the use of their Sport Van.
6. Minden O.P.P. for their co-operation.
7. Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden and the BIA for their support and co-operation.
8. Sainsbury & Company Ltd. for their gift of champagne.
9. All the volunteers who make this race possible.
10. All the local businesses and individuals who donated time, talent and prizes.
11. Bart Hilhorst and his band for recording the song, "Catch The Drift", and for giving the Sled Dog Derby the rights to this song.
12. Jerry Jordan at Highlands Jewellery and China Shoppe for the trophies.
13. Glen Austin, John Kernohan, Jim Garbutt, John Cooper.

Also, from all of us in Minden, a special thank you to Martin's Pet Foods of Elmira for sponsoring this event.

Reflections

by Dr. David Suzuki

VANCOUVER — On December 5 in the Indian village of Wabasca in northern Alberta, an environmental impact assessment review board met to hear submissions on the potential impact of the world's largest bleach kraft pulp mill proposed by Alberta-Pacific Forest Industries.

Simon Lucas, a chief of the Hesquiat Tribe on the west coast of Vancouver Island, made an eloquent statement that provides a different perspective on the way we do things.

"Our people have the understanding that we will always be in the womb of our Mother Earth...we have the understanding that all life is connected.

"Recently...there were some areas closed that surround our Nations. One of them is the Mowahchat Tribe in Gold River where there is a pulp mill where they have been spewing out chemicals of all sorts. Now they are not allowed to harvest anything.

"Everything is literally closed. But they were saying to us 25 years ago that nothing would ever be tampered with. Twenty-five years ago, they convinced our people that all of those people on that reservation were going to be employed. I can count on one hand how many of our people are employed in that pulp mill.

"They told our people that the game, the deer and the elk would never be affected. Well, they were affected. Now when our people go out there to hunt for elk and deer, they are charged for poaching. They have become the scapegoats of what happened in that area in terms of the activity.

"Next thing they know, there was 2,000 workers, 2,000 people that started to say: 'That's our resource. That's ours.'

"Our people in Mowahchat...no longer have the freedom to fish in their rivers; no longer have the freedom to roam the mountains...The pulp mills have never, ever been charged for destroying the fish.

"The moose has been planned out of the plan; the beaver has been planned out of the plan; the caribou has been planned out of the plan.

"We assume that we have the ultimate power to take out a forest. Well...you haven't talked about the forest like our people talk about the forest.

"Twenty-five years from now our people have the right to breathe clean air. That's not going to be around too much longer if this major pulp mill comes through here.

"You are tampering with traditions that have evolved for thousands of years...You have been with us only for a short period of time...You have bestowed on Mother Earth grief. Your great scientists, your great learned people, your education institutions are the people that are literally developing, every day to this very second, chemical forms and expecting that Mother Earth isn't going to break at the seams.

"You are going to have to one day say to yourselves: 'What am I going to leave my great, great, great, grandchildren?' Well, that's the way our people talk. What is in it for my great, great, great grandchild?

"...You don't care because you don't know about the earth. You don't know about the ultimate connection to life...Maybe it is great to be a billionaire, maybe it's great to be a millionaire. But at what cost?

"When people have walked out with their millions of dollars, who do you think is going to be still here 50 years from now? It will be our people. These foreign investors, do you think they are going to be here when all the trees are gone? Do you think, honestly, can you tell me that they will be here living amongst our people? No...I've seen those people...Our people are still living there. Their background is bare. No more deer in their areas. In some places, right in my own background, they literally logged it right to the front of the lake where our sockeye salmon spawn. We tried to tell them, 'there is sockeye that spawn in that creek; can you not log there?'

"No, you know what our people do as free enterprises, you weigh the monetary value to what the price of the sockeye is. That kind of thinking has got to stop, that attitude.

Pee wees lose two to Millbrook

By Marlene Mestroni

Hi again! I hope everyone had a pleasant Holiday Season. I wish you all good fortune and health in the coming year.

Well it's time to update the Minden Pee Wee's games starting with the December 21 game hosted by Millbrook.

Millbrook won 7-1. The Pee Wee's one and only goal of the game was scored by Garrett (Flash) Campbell in the second period. good going Flash.

Our second game with Millbrook hosted by Minden on January 6 saw the Pee Wee's in better form. Millbrook won 3-1 but it was a much tougher win compared to the previous game. Andrew Sisson scored for Minden at 5:05 in the first period.

Robbie Reid and Keith McKelvey, two of Minden's defence men, deserve recognition for their good defence skills during this game.

Minden hosted Haliburton on January 11. The score was 5-1 for Haliburton. Andrew Sisson scored for Minden.

On January 13 Minden hosted Manvers. Manvers defeated Minden 7-2.

Scoring for Minden were Aaron Tomlinson during the first period and David Short assisted by Keith McKelvey, during the second period.

Benji Cregs, defence man for Minden, deserves mention for his contributions during this game.

The Minden Pee Wee's will be hosting a tournament on February 25. Further details will follow

Atoms improve in second showing against Fenelon

By Linda Hopkins

'Twas a bad day Saturday, January 13 for Minden's Atom Tri County team.

While the mushers were mushing, Minden was scrambling for a win against Fenelon Falls, to break the losing streak all Minden teams were experiencing that day on home ice. Such was not the case though as Fenelon defeated the boys 3-2.

They played a good game with credits to Donald Todd and Sheamus Connery for goals and Chuck Hopkins, Rob Camelon and Donald Todd for assists.

Tuesday night, January 16 when Bobcaygeon came to town, the show was a little different. The boys were hungry and wanted a win. They played an excellent game with great accent on passing and positions.

Most of the action remained in 'Caygeon's end throughout the game and undoubtedly, had the refereeing been somewhat more thorough and experienced, as we have noticed in various games, the score would have been even more favourable.

At this level of hockey, when the boys are constantly trying to learn different strategies of the game, it must be very confusing and maddening when the refereeing is not conducive to the play of the game. Regardless of the obstacles, the boys have always been proud to step on the ice as a team in any arena and attempt to play a clean fair game. We can also be assured our coach will not be asked to leave the players' bench and remain in the lobby behind the glass, because of some verbal remark he has made, as seems to be the practice of some of the visiting teams at various levels.

Credits for goals in the 'Caygeon game go to Nathan Stephenson, Chuck Hopkins, Adam Carpenter and finally Sheamus Connery who really was robbed during a couple of other attempts in the game because of a whistle quickly blown. Assists go to Raymond Ranson and Sheamus.

With 14 games played so far this regular schedule the boys have produced nine wins, four losses and one tie. All losses are against teams we have beaten and the tie was with Haliburton.

Next week will cover our last two games before playoffs; however, in between we have an exhibition game and a tournament in Ops January 27. See you there!

Minor baseball is coming to Minden this summer, Coaches to attend seminar

To prepare for the introduction of minor baseball in Minden this summer, coaches and officials will be attending a technical seminar in St. Catharines on February 23, 24 and 25.

Minor baseball will be available in Minden this summer if enough interest is shown by players. To get ready for this, at least six people will be taking part in the seminar for coaches, umpires and scorekeepers.

Kevin Smith, who is one of the key people behind the organization of minor baseball in Minden is encouraging anyone interested in coaching this summer to attend the seminar.

Interaction '90 is designed to allow participants the opportunity to learn more within their own particular area of interest, whether it be coaching, umpiring or scorekeeping. The weekend will provide the chance to share ideas and experiences and to "pick the brains" of many experts on a variety of topics.

Anyone interested in attending this seminar should contact Kevin Smith, Gary Smith, Craig Smith, Mark Davis or Harland Doige.

Farmers Association concludes active year

It was an active year for the Haliburton County Farmers Association, President Wally Bunn said of 1989 at the annual meeting last Monday.

"It's surprising when you see what we've done," Bunn said, looking back on the activities of the year. The association organized a sugar bush tour, a small animals display, and a seminar on income tax for the farmer. It was also active in the Haliburton County Fair, entering a float in the parade, organizing the Farmers' Olympics and putting on a display of farm animals.

The Farmers Association also held a barn dance that was a great success, said the outgoing president. And the talk given by government veterinarian Bob Bone-shyn on 'swamp fever' provided horse owners with valuable information on this disease which affected several horses in the county.

The annual meeting marked the end of Bunn's term as president. An election was held at Monday's meeting and Charlie Tyler was chosen to be the new president. John Francis is the new vice president;

Joanne Howard is the Secretary Treasurer; Paul Aggett is the newsletter chairman; Ross Warburton is the director for horses; Godfrey Tyler is the director for cattle and the representative on the Ontario Cattlemen's Association; Rhonda Francis is the director for small animals; Casey Cox is the director for soil and crops; Shirley Cowling is the director for market gardens and horticulture; Jim Cowling is the director for maple syrup, and Dwaine Warburton is the Fair Liaison.

In his remarks, Bunn said it has been a very good year for the association. He said participation in all the activities was strong and membership has risen to 47.

Godfrey Tyler gave a report on the activities of the OCA, followed by a talk by Ardel Grieve, who addressed the future of the cattlemen's association.

Following the election of officers, Carm Hamilton from the Ministry of Agriculture, gave a showing of slides.

The annual Farmers Association dinner will be held on February 3

Juveniles entering the playoffs

The Minden Juvenile Monarchs have completed their regular season and are now in the playoffs. They opened the round-robin series in strong form with a 4-4 tie at home against Woodville on January 14. On January 21, they met Millbrook, again at home.

—On February 10, the Juveniles travel to Woodville for an 8:30 p.m. game. —On Sunday, February 11, they are in Millbrook for a 5 p.m. game. —On Saturday, February 17, the Juveniles are in Sunderland for an 8:30 p.m. game. —Their next home game is on Sunday, February 18 at 4 p.m.

Anyone wishing to travel to the away games can get a ride on the bus by first contacting Coach Kevin Smith at 286-3680 or Gary Smith at 286-4379.

To help you follow the action in the playoffs, the following are the players and their sweater numbers: Darren Byers, 15; Danny Cannaghan, 4; Jeff Feero, 14; Steve Freeman, 3; Roland Greber, 17; Phillip Johnston, 16; Gavin McKnight, 20 (goalie); Derek Moore, 22; Scott Nesbitt, 77; Craig Smith, 66; Jason Stamp, 9; Darren Warburton, 6; John Wells, 44; Daryl Winder, 50; Brent Flood and Scott Russell.

Series opens with 4-4 tie

The Minden Legion Juveniles started the 1990 playoff season in fine fashion tying Woodville 4-4 on Sunday.

The Minden Monarchs opened the scoring at the 9:40 mark of the first period with a goal from John Wells assisted by Bucky Byers.

Woodville tied up the game at 6:32 and then took the lead just over a minute later at 5:25. Scott Nesbitt tied the game 1:25 later from Bucky Byers and Craig Smith to end the first period.

The first period was a fast-paced period with a lot of body checks handed out.

The teams exchanged goals in the second, Woodville at the 7:12 mark and Minden at 4:50 by John Wells again from Bucky Byers and Jason (Spade) Stamp. The second period featured close-checking.

The third period, unlike the first two periods, was wide-open, end-to-end action. The period featured many outstanding saves by goaltender Gavin McKnight.

Craig Smith lead the attack scoring at the 10:36 mark of the third period from Scott Nesbitt and Jeff Feero.

With only 1:09 left in the game and Minden on the power-play, Woodville scored to tie the game and take a tie home with them.

Coach Kevin Smith says Gavin McKnight layed another exceptional game helping his team in the game on many occasions.

John Wells, Bucky Byers and Craig Smith played a strong game on forward while Captain Scott Nesbitt was the mainstay, strong and steady on defense.

NOW AND AGAIN someone does their job exceptionally well — They go the extra mile and sometimes it appears, that nobody notices or cares.

But that's not always the case. Join me now to applaud the Haliburton County Roads Department who are spreading sand across the end of their roads parallel to the side of Provincial Highways.

We have all experienced that sick feeling you get when your car keeps sliding. No one will ever know how many lives are saved by sand in the right place at the right time.

Keep up the good work —

Thanks.

Steady progress being made at industrial park

Lutterworth Township is continuing to make steady progress in the development of its industrial park and lots may be available for sale in the spring.

Councillor Maurice Boyd, who chairs the industrial park committee, delivered some promising news to council Thursday.

Boyd said the centre line of the roadway into the industrial park on Highway 121 has been surveyed and elevations are now being mapped out. He said the Ministry of Transportation has also approved the entrance permit into the park.

In a newsletter to go out with the tax bills, Boyd expresses hope that the industrial part will be a reality early this spring.

Township hopes to avoid lengthy study

Davis is confident that consultants can address concerns before Feb. 28, deadline

the project has still been delayed.

In outlining Dysart's position to the ministry officials, Davis expressed the municipality's frustration about the constant delays and the soaring costs. The estimated price-tag of the plant expansion and construction of the sewer line extension now exceeds $7 million.

The Ministry has now received four objections to the plant expansion. Two of the objections come from property owners' associations on Canning Lake and Lake Kashagawigamog. The other two are from individuals who live on the lake chain.

The most recent objection to the project came from Lois and Bruce Cooper.

In a letter to the Minister, Mrs.

Cooper says "despite conflicting arguments, my eyes and nose tell me one thing certainly: Lake Kashagawigamog has been undergoing changes for the worse over the last few years.

"The algae growth is expanding rapidly, the lake bottom is muckier, the odour is at times disquieting, and the evidence of sewage-like masses floating into the shore have increased markedly."

The Coopers list several concerns about the possible negative effect the sewage expansion might have including the increase in effluent volume from the plant.

"I wish to impress on you that no individual cottage owner or association could or would seriously make objection to commercial development or sewer line/plant expansion for the sake of obstinacy," says the letter. "You must believe that we who have enjoyed the Haliburton lakes in their purest form only wish to assure that they are not damaged beyond repair."

In closing her letter to the Minister, Mrs. Cooper says, "I plead with you to use the authority given to you to 'bump-up' this project before it goes further, based on what surely must be a 'reasonable doubt' about its future effect."

In response to the Coopers' letter at the council meeting, Lloyd Leadbeater, who is now the township's deputy-reeve, said the objectors are ignoring evidence that the expanded sewage plant will improve the water quality in the lake because of lower levels of bacteria and phosphorous in the effluent. "They are delaying the clean-up," said Leadbeater.

Davis agreed and said if the project is delayed for two years by an individual assessment, it will "probably kill it." Trying to remain optimistic, Davis said he has "all the faith in the world," in Tottem, Sims and Hubicki's ability to address the concerns.

Not only have the delays driven up the cost of the project, they have also cost the township an additional $55,000 in fees to the consultants.

"The only winners are Tottem, Sims and Hubicki, and the people who make paper for the Ministry of the Environment," said councillor John Parrish.

"Everyone else are losers, including the cottagers," said Leadbeater.

Around The County Town

Alzheimer Society of Haliburton County invites you to meet at Extencicare, Park Rd., Haliburton on Wed., Jan. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Video: "Do You Remember Love?"

Everyone welcome. Call 457-3034 for further information.

Card party winners at St. Paul's last Thursday were: most lone hands - Eleanor Pye, while Joyce Hewitt and Jeanne Sears took high lady and man and Verna McDonald and Jack Weekes took the lows.

It is most gratifying to see so many using the recycling bins and it is hoped more materials can be recycled but in the meantime we all should try to do our best. In our home, we use cottage cheese, yogurt and margarine containers for left-overs and freezer containers. If you have your own way to help recycle, please phone me and share your ideas with us all. Mary Scott 286-1104.

Received the first seed catalogue and it is a sure sign that spring will arrive. It lifts the spirits just to see the colourful pictures of the fruit, veggies and flowers we can grow in our gardens.

Meals to Wheels Luncheon and Cards at the Legion on Tuesday provided the following prizes: Door prize - Iris Taylor, low hands - Mary Cassidy, one hands - Ruby Schmidt, high lady - Vera Ward, high man - Verna McDonald. The next luncheon and cards will be on January 30. Call 286-2733 or 286-2872.

Something important to us all is the new way to contact our police. There is a new phone number to call for emergencies, crimes or accidents. It is 1-800-461-6488 but the number 286-1431 can be used for administrative purposes. It would be a good idea if we all put this new number by our phones.

Florence Robinson was happy to have her son Bradley from Toronto visit her this past weekend and they attended the funeral of the late Harold Morgan.

Just heard of the death of a former resident of Minden. Marie (Gannon) Crocker passed away in her 107th year. Sincere sympathy to her family and friends.

Club 35 euchre - January 15. Winners were 50/50 draw Mervyn Bunker, most lone hand - Harold Culley, high lady - Lily Allen and her husband Jim Allen. Others - Edith Russell, Art Parker and Verna Sawyer.

Club 35 Bridge January 16 - First winner - Thelda Weston, second - June Braming and third - Betty Culley.

Legion Euchre - January 11. Most lone hands - ladies - Verna McDonald, most lone hands - men - Jack Weekes, high man - Orval Francis, high lady - Pearl Cowen. Others - lady - Marie Dennie, man - Hilda Harrison. Draws: Shirley Stamp, Jack Weekes, Jack Chilton and Norm Lee.

Winners of the MNR Hockey team draw held January 9, were - first Peter Hynard, secon Art Goard. Congratulations to both.

It is hoped that you will phone me and share your good news and sometimes the not so good news but if we don't hear about them, it is very difficult to help or give congratulations.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family and friends of Isabella Avery who passed away this week.

Don't forget to feed our little feathered friends.

A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tues., Jan. 23 at The Times office to elect the President, 1st and 2nd Vice.

Legion Branch 636 Euchre - Jan. 18. Winners: lone hands ladies - May Bradbury, lone hands men - John James, high score ladies - Gladys Wruth, high score men - Marg McAfee, low score ladies - Marion Irwin, low score men - Orval Francis. Draw winners: Pearl Cowen, Jack Chilton, Grace Mumms, and Horry Baker.

We were very sorry to hear of the passing of long-time summer resident Mrs. Ernest (Hilda) Nevitt. Mrs. Nevitt was involved with the School of Fine Arts for many years, sharing her expertise and enthusiasm with many local artisans. Our sincere sympathy is extended to her husband and family at this time. She will be sorely missed.

Spending is under control

Report From Ottawa

by Bill Scott, M.P.

Since, 1984, government spending has dropped and efficiency has risen. A more businesslike approach to the operations of government has spawned a number of initiatives that have brought previously wild government spending under control.

We have kept the annual growth in program expenditures to 3.6 per cent - well below the inflation rate. Critics are invited to compare this with a growth rate of 14.1 per cent under the last five years, from 1979 to 1984.

The Public Service is, as we promised, smaller. In fact, it is now the size it was 17 years ago. And budgetary revenues are expected to exceed program spending by $9 billion this year - a significant improvement over the 1984 $12 billion deficit.

Despite these achievements, times remain tight. The federal government has asked Canadians to tighten their belts; now the time has come for the government itself to tighten its own belt a few notches more.

On December 15, 1989, Treasury Board Minister Robert de Cotret announced a series of cost-cutting measures that will save $1.4 billion over the next three years. They will also cause a few wincing in the National Capital Region, because Members of Parliament and their staff find themselves squarely in de Cotret's crosshairs. Mem-

Morning exercises help to get the blood circulating

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

Thursday started with Fun & Fitness to get our blood circulating.

In the afternoon the Martha group from the United Church served us a beautiful lunch. One of the ladies played the piano and we had a good sing song. We appreciate the ladies very much for both the sing song and lovely lunch. Thank you all.

Doris has started to read another book. This is mainly for the residents who can't see to read, can almost see the story being read. Anyone is welcome to listen. I take advantage of this reading which I enjoy very much.

Friday was Happy Hour in the auditorium and Ursula Nietsch played the accordeon to provide the entertainment. We thank her and appreciate her coming, also the volunteers who waited on the tables etc.

Last week I thanked Pat Campbell for the beautiful flowers but I omitted to mention the Donation fund provided the funds to make it. Since we are thinking Christmas on behalf of the Residents I want to say how much they enjoyed the efforts the Hyland Crest staff gave for us through the entire Christmas season. Especially the Nursing staff, Housekeeping, Laundry, and Kitchen staff who provided the delicious Tea Parties during the Christmas week. All the staff was great and made our Christmas special.

I went to see my sister May Cameron who is still in Civic Hospital. My great nephew Clarke Yateman his sister Deane Grant from Virginia Beach and her daughter, Heather took me down Friday night and Jacqueline, my niece, her daughter Deane and her two grand children brought me home.

We were very sorry to hear that Marjory Bagshaw of Trenton passed away Saturday, January 13, 1990. She was the daughter of Ina McGuire, niece of May Horsley and cousin of Mark Schell. We extend our sympathy to all her relatives and friends.

Sunday night chapel service was taken by Rev. John Burgess with Alice Jones playing the organ for us.

Both are appreciated very much.

Pearl Lyle is well enough to be back in her own room again. Her daughter Jean and Anna (who has been sick also) were here to see their mother Tuesday.

Irene Roberts, Ruby Lewis' sister was to visit her Tuesday afternoon.

Congratulations to Hazel Hoskins who had a birthday January 15. We hope you have many more.

Monday night we were shown three movies by Ruth and Allan Rice, "Jungle Cats of the Amazon", "Island of Coral" and "Log-drivers". They were very interesting and we thank Ruth and Allan.

Tuesday Mrs. Marjorie Rennick came for a hymn sing with us. We enjoyed it and thank her sincerely.

Wednesday night Pastor Murray from Allsaw held a service in the main lounge accompanied by some of his members.

Eatery cuts save $730,000

bers' budgets for printing "householders" mailings will be reduced by 20 per cent, for a savings of $1.2 million.

Parliamentary Restaurant Services will save $730,000 after two Hill-caferias and the Members' private dining room and lounge are closed in 1990. TV studio production services, which enable MPs to produce short cable shows for broadcast in their ridings, will be discontinued; and two-year freeze on non-salary budgets for MPs is also in the works.

There is more. The government has ordered an immediate 20 percent reduction in the number of international trips taken by public servants; two of the government's eight executive Challenger aircraft will be sold; External Affairs and International Trade Canada will reduce its operating budget by $70 million over four years; all major Crown construction projects in the National Capital Region — worth $460 million — will be frozen for two years; the National Capital Commission will reduce spending on official residences, contribute part of its land sale revenues to the Consolidated Revenue Fund and decrease capital and operating expenses for savings worth $24 million over three years.

In addition, some $450 million will be saved over three years by severely limiting the increase in operating and maintenance budgets of government programs; and $390 million will be collected over three years by recovering the costs of delivering certain services.

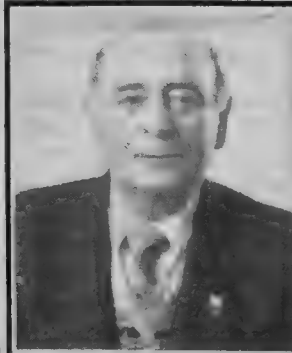

These are just a few of the measures being taken in the interest of common sense and leadership. No doubt Parliamentarians and those who labour for them will feel the pinch. But it is discomfort that will be willingly borne; because we firmly believe the running of a nation should not be different from running an average household — the basic principles of responsibility, leadership and fairness must prevail over the foolish, frivolous and arrogant approach to the public purse taken by previous governments of days gone by.

Highlands man faces two charges for fatal blast

A Haliburton man has been charged by the Ontario Ministry of the Environment after he allegedly conducted a quarry blast which caused one death and substantial property damage.

The charge alleges that, on January 13, 1988, Robert Casey, who is employed as a driller/blaster, permitted dangerous blasting at a Coboconk area quarry. As a result of the blast, a large quantity of flyrock escaped from the quarry property killing a local resident and damaging nearby properties.

Casey faces one charge under Section 13(1)(e) of the Environmental Protection Act, which relates to the discharging of flyrock into the natural environment that impairs or is likely to impair the safety of any person. Casey also faces one charge under Section 13(1)(b) of the Environmental Protection Act, which relates to discharging flyrock into the natural environment that causes or is likely to cause damage to property.

A trial date has been set for 9:30 a.m. on June 25 and 26, 1990 in Lindsay Provincial Offences Court.

Did You Know?

Personal tax returns are now in the mail and the General Tax Guide will be available February 1, 1990.

The Haliburton County Information Centre is, once again, hosting a tax clinic to ready volunteers to assist seniors and low-income families with the preparation of their returns. The clinic will be held February 22, 1990 in the hall of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, Victoria Street, Haliburton, starting at 1:30 p.m. Bruce Ripley of Revenue Canada will be on hand to give instruction on any changes that have been made to the 1989 return. Over 180 returns were completed by volunteers for seniors and low-income families during the 1988 filing and we are anticipating an even greater number this year.

Have you considered becoming a volunteer? You will find it a very rewarding experience. For further information contact your nearest Information Centre. In Haliburton, the centre is located in the Drag River Municipal Building, Maple Avenue, open Monday to Friday 10 a.m.

to 4 p.m. or call 457-2733. If you reside in the Minden area, the centre, located in the Municipal Building, Milne Street, is open Monday and Tuesday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 286-4100. Anyone living outside the toll-free area, please call collect.

Deer vulnerable to packs of roaming dogs

The Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden District, would like to stress the importance of dog owners maintaining control of their pets.

Conditions at this time of the year can result in a crust being formed on the snow which restricts deer movements but supports and allows dogs to travel at will.

Domestic dogs, which often travel in groups, take this opportunity to roam and participate in the thrill of the deer chase which often results in the death of the deer through injury or exhaustion.

Deer are in their best physical condition before they enter winter as a result of unlimited food supplies. During the winter months the food resource is reduced, resulting in a gradual decline in the animal's condition.

During the winter months, the deer is the most vulnerable to harassment. As well as receiving leg injuries from crusting snow conditions, a prolonged chase results in high energy consumption for deer already under the stress of winter. This can result in the death of the deer even without being attacked. The females are extremely sensitive to unnecessary exertion and the added stress of pursuit can lead to aborted fawns.

During this critical period for deer, the Ministry of Natural Resources asks the co-operation of all dog owners in protecting the deer herds by not allowing their pets to roam unattended. The Game and Fish Act allows a Conservation Officer to destroy any dog found running deer and provides a penalty to a maximum of $5,000 for the owner of a dog found running at large during the closed season for deer or chasing deer.

The public can also assist by reporting any dogs observed chasing deer by contacting the Minden District Office of the Ministry of Natural Resources at 705-286-1521.

Give the deer a break! Please keep your dog tied

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Olive Lillian Ward, my dear wife, who passed away January 27, 1989.

Months have grown day by day. It's now a year since she went away. Thoughts are full and hearts do weigh. Without her here to share the way, Time may dull the hand of fate, Memory forever recalls the date.

Sadly missed by Earl

My Dad - January 10, 1989.

It has been one long year And you are still so very near. In some small way every day. Something reminds me of you, So many little things I miss. To you Dad, a big hug and kiss.

Love you and miss you,
Nelson & Betty

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Olive Lillian Ward, taken from us January 27, 1989.

Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile

A loving heart that knew no guile

Deep trust in God that all was right

Her joy to make some other bright.

If sick or suffering one she knew

Some gentle act of love she'd do

No thought of self, but of the other

I know He said "Well done, dear Mother"

If we could only speak to her And hold her loving hand

No matter what we've said or done,

We know she'd understand.

Sadly missed & never forgotten by Barry & Daryl.

FOOD NEWS!
 "Pork is a very good source of protein, thiamin (Vitamin B), and is lower in calories and cholesterol than you would think. Dry heat cooking methods (roasting, grilling, pan-frying, or barbecuing) will yield the best results."
